Additional Information: See the UL Online Certifications Directory at www.ul.com/database for additional information

Only those products bearing the UL Certification Mark should be considered as being covered by UL's Certification and Follow-Up Service.

The UL Recognized Component Mark generally consists of the manufacturer's identification and catalog number, model number or other product designation as specified under "Marking" for the particular Recognition as published in the appropriate UL Directory. As a supplementary means of identifying products that have been produced under UL's Component Recognition Program, UL's Recognized Component Mark:
, may be used in conjunction with the required Recognized Marks. The Recognized Component Mark is required when specified in the UL Directory preceding the recognitions or under "Markings" for the individual recognitions.

Recognized components are incomplete in certain constructional features or restricted in performance capabilities and are intended for use as components of complete equipment submitted for investigation rather than for direct separate installation in the field. The final acceptance of the component is dependent upon its installation and use in complete equipment submitted to UL LLC.

Look for the UL Certification Mark on the product.

Any information and documentation involving UL Mark services are provided on behalf of UL LLC (UL) or any authorized licensee of UL. For questions, please contact a local UL Customer Service Representative at <http://ul.com/aboutul/locations/>

MARKING:

Recognized company's name or trade name, as shown below, and the material designation on the smallest unit container, plus factory identification where applicable.

U.S. AND CANADIAN

Where models meet U.S. and Canadian requirements as indicated in the individual descriptive sections of this Procedure, the product and/or package shall be provided with the required Engineering Markings as specified in the Section General and/or the descriptive sections. In addition, the following Canadian Recognized Component Mark may appear on the product and/or package:

Note that the traditional U.S. Recognized Component Mark  may appear in conjunction with the Canadian Recognized Component Mark for products that have been evaluated to U.S. and Canadian requirements. If the use of the U.S. Recognized Component Mark is mandatory, for this product category, the Section General and the Recognized Component Directory will specify its use as part of the marking requirements.

TRADEMARK DESIGNATION:

The following trademark or trade name, if any, may be used in lieu of the company name to identify Recognized materials covered by this Procedure.
